NEW BANK.

Another enterprise at Jasper, which will greatly build up the town, is the establishment of a commercial bank, which will aid home-builders in locating in Jasper. The News has no definite intelligence of the plans except that the capitalization up to $75,000 is being rapidly taken up, everyone being eager to assist in a proposition which will assist the town and section. We hope to give more definite information next week as to the organization, but take the opportunity to again congratulate Jasper on its enterprise. The saying, "as dead as Jasper" will have to be changed to "as alive as Jasper."

ROBERT TOO ROUGH.

A friend, a Republican, evidently, sends the following:

"Last night I read [the greatest republican speech ever delivered in this country, perhaps. It was delivered by Robert G. Ingersoll during the campaign between Hayes and Tilden. Among other things he said was this: 'The democratic party holds about the same relation to the penitentiary that a Sunday school holds to the church.'"

Shades of Robert G. it is a little rough to thus classify democrats. To our mind insane asylum suits the case better, for none but insane men, in addition to prodigal expenditure of money drawn from the very life of the people, would deliberately set about to insult thousands of their own party who had more sense than they had.

And we don't want any Hooverism. This country has experienced too much of the force tactics and Mr. Hoover has had so much authority he may possibly have got the habit. We do not want to hear the word "ration" ever again mentioned in this country, unless Providence denies a crop.

The price of a page advertisement in the News now is $24. For that money we can get supplies one-third the amount, if we are very careful in buying, based on the prices we paid when we got $12 a page. Hence we are losing $4 on the deal. No wonder people are working their fingers off and have nothing.

Yes, Judith, the time is slowly but surely approaching when those so-called democrats who would entangle their country in the web of foreign intrigue, will be banished from the National Capital, let us hope never to return. Let them sink into the oblivion they so justly deserve.

When you think what a country this was only a few years ago and then consider how torn-up, financially and politically it is now, it is absolutely sickening.

Oh you $31.8c dollar, how fat you have made the millionaire and how poor the toiler.

LEONARD WOOD.

LEONARD WOOD'S ACTIVE CAREER

Brief Story of His Life as Doctor, Soldier and Statesman—His Boyhood and Student Days.

By JOHN G. HOLME.

On December 12, 1890, Leonard Wood, a Major-General of Volunteers in the United States Army, received one of the most remarkable offers that any government has ever issued to any army officer.

He was made Governor-General of an island which for four hundred years had been a colonial dependency of one of the most reactionary monarchies on the face of the earth and was commanded to train its million and a half inhabitants, who had never had any voice in their government, for republican self-government. He was ordered to perform this gigantic task as quickly as possible, for the diplomatic telegraphs of all the governments of the world were trained on the United States and the island, which happened to be, in natural resources, probably the richest spot of its size on the globe. The governments of Europe, Asia and South America wanted to know whether Uncle Sam really meant what he said when he pledged himself to free Cuba, or whether he was really going to annex Cuba with her inexhaustible sugar bowl.

The work before Wood was to build, rebuild and repair all the civil institutions of Cuba, such as the courts, the customs and postal departments, the school and electoral systems, establish lines of communication, expel the epidemic, train native public officials and supervise the writing of the Constitution. When Cuba was able to stand on her own feet, Wood was to come home.

Two years before the man who was commanded to perform this extraordinary task had been an obscure army doctor with the rank and pay of a captain. He had distinguished himself in the Spanish-American War as Colonel of the Rough Riders, the famous regiment of aristocrats and cowboys of which Theodore Roosevelt later became the commander when Wood was advanced to the rank of Brigadier-General. Wood had done a big job as Military Governor of Santiago de Cuba, and his success there had paved the way for his Governorship of all Cuba. Now that he looks big as Presidential possibility, the American people are more than ever interested in his career, in the forces and influences which have shaped his active life.

Leonard Wood was born in the village of Winchester, N. H., on October 9, 1890, and is therefore fifty-nine years of age. He comes of an old American stock which settled in New England long before the Revolution. One of his ancestors, Peregrine White, was the first white child born in Plymouth colony. Another ancestor, John Nixon, was one of Washington's Brigadiers, fighting through the Revolution. Leonard Wood's father, Dr. Charles Jewett Wood, left his wife and infant son, the future General, to respond to Lincoln's first call for volunteers. He was invalided home just before the Confederacy surrendered.

After the Civil War the family moved to Cape Cod, Massachusetts, settling in the village of Pocasset, where Leonard Wood grew up, attended the district school and later Pierce Academy, Middleboro, Mass. Here he distinguished himself as an all-around athlete. He showed a fondness for the languages and history. In his work he was persevering rather than ready.

WOOD'S MANAGERS CLAIM 300 VOTES

Senator Moses and W. S. Procter See Powerful Support for Their Candidate — Hitchcock Joins General.

New York.—When Senator George H. Moses and William Cooper Procter, managers of General Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican nomination for President, made their claim that he would have 300 pledged delegates when the Chicago convention opened, General Wood's rivals smiled.

Every day that has passed since the claim was made convinces General Wood's supporters that it will be more than fulfilled. All of the States claimed by Senator Moses and Mr. Procter are running true to expected form, and in addition General Wood is developing unusual strength in unexpected places.

Claims are made by supporters of Senator Johnson, Senator Harding, Governor Lowden and other aspirants for the nomination, but none of them has gotten down to cases and named the locations from which pledged delegates are expected to come. Senator Moses, on the other hand, specifically states where General Wood's first 300 delegates are coming from. Senator Moses said:

"New York, New England, New Jersey and Delaware will give General Wood 100 delegates; the Middle West and Northwest will furnish 100 more; the South Atlantic States 50 and the Interior South and Southwestern States 50 more."

Since this claim was made the Wood managers have received reports from all sections of the country, showing that each of the sections mentioned by Senator Moses is getting stronger and stronger for Wood.

General Wood confesses himself gratified, flattered and surprised over the reception accorded him everywhere he has spoken. A few days ago he told a number of his friends that while the enthusiasm and tumultuous applause of the large crowds impressed him tremendously, he was deeply touched by the great number of personal assurances he had received from individuals—men and women who had stood in line for long periods to shake hands with him and pledge him their wholehearted support.

Although the supporters of General Wood's rivals have attempted to slur him in many ways, General Wood is conducting his campaign on the highest plane of dignity and has never yet made an uncompromising allusion to any of the other aspirants for the nomination. One of the most recent efforts to strike at Wood was a stirring reference to General Wood as "the man in uniform." When this was brought to General Wood's attention by some of his supporters, he immediately issued this statement:

"I have no apologies for the American uniform. If I had it would be an insult to every American soldier who died in France or in previous wars we have waged."

With Frank H. Hitchcock, former postmaster general and manager of William Howard Taft's campaign in 1908, now actively affiliated with the Wood management, National Campaign Manager Procter is confident that an unbeatable combination has been formed. Mr. Hitchcock does not succeed Mr. Procter, but will have co-ordinate authority with him, both working to their utmost ability in the furtherance of General Wood's campaign.

In entering upon his work with the Wood campaign, Mr. Hitchcock said there was every reason for being confident of Wood's nomination because he is the outstanding candidate and the man with whom the Republican party undoubtedly can win in November.

KELLEY'S FERRY

Special to the News.
Well, we have been having some very rainy weather, and I will write a few lines from this place.

Mollie Powers was all smiles Sunday. Wonder why. Guess she got a letter from Seaside, Ala. John Farmer took dinner with Miss Maudie Hicks Sunday. She was so well pleased she forgot to put salt in her bread. Come again, John, she will salt the bread next Sunday all right.

Wonder if John Hicks has got the blues yet. I suppose so. Cheer up, John, she will come back Sunday. Alex Anderson still hangs his hat on Riley Boatright's cow horn. I think he has got the blues. Cheer up, Alex, she is still looking for you.

Didn't Wesley Hicks look cute going down the road with a wheelbarrow. I asked him where he was going and said he was going down the road to see Miss Mollie.

Ralph Cureton looked cute Sunday. He was seen coming up the road running. On being asked where he was going he said, "I am going out to see Miss Esther, for I haven't seen her since Sunday."

If you want to see Jess Anderson grin ask him where he is going. Wonder if he gets tired going up to the school house to see Miss Powell. Wonder if Bessie Lawson will get mad when she hears about that girl powdering Jess Powers' face a few Sundays back.

Didn't Jim Powers look sporty Sunday. He had to get on a box to look over his tie.

Arthur Boatright will run himself to death if he doesn't get to talk to Maudie. Don't cry, Arthur, I think she will talk to you.

If you want to see Miss Ellen Hicks frown ask her why that young man won't talk to her.

Have you seen Jess Anderson's new neck tie. It looks like a blue butterfly. Beekon why Will McNabb didn't take Miss Ellen home Sunday.

George Hicks was seen coming up the road lamenting that he had lost his girl. Poor George, it's terrible. If you want to see Kenny Newsome smile ask him who is in the cave he likes.

Tom Sexton was all smiles Sunday. Wonder why? I say why, he has been going down to Mr. Anderson's house.

Wonder if W. A. Cureton would smile if George Hicks and Sie Anderson would build a platform to have some dances on.

Bill Anderson took a flying trip back to Chattanooga Sunday afternoon. If you want to see Miss Zora Anderson smile ask her how she likes to play the piano.

TENNESSEE CORN CLUB BOYS AVERAGE 54.4 BUSHELS COSTING 46c

Last year the corn club boys of Tennessee produced an average of 54.4 bushels of corn per acre. If it is valued at $1.50 per bushel, the crop from each acre was worth $81.45.

Each boy kept an account of the cost of growing his corn, which averaged $25.07 per acre. When we deduct this from the value of the crop, there remains a net profit of $56.38.

In order to give an idea as to the methods followed by some of the more successful corn club boys in growing their corn, a few of their records will be printed during this season. It is hoped that their methods will be a source of information to others who will be able to produce equally good results. Until we apply on a large scale the most practical methods used by successful farmers and corn club boys, we will not reap the full benefit of the great work the county agents are doing.
